CLAY CITY, KY., THURSDAY AUGUST 6, 1914.

NO. 32

Quiet Election.

The primary passed off very quietly in all parts of the State. The daily papers have given out the results until all of our readers are as familiar with the returns as we are. Governor Beckham proved that he could come back after a six years rest. Congressman Cantrill carried the 7th district by a much greater majority than his most ardent supporters thought for. Camden came through in a walk. Willson is the Republican nominee for Senator by a safe majority.

Now for Good Roads.

The primary is over and everybody can now take a rest. The Democrats are for their men and the Republicans are for their's. There is but little opportunity now to make a change in votes. It is always a pleasure to have a rest from a campaign, especially when the fight is in one's own house.

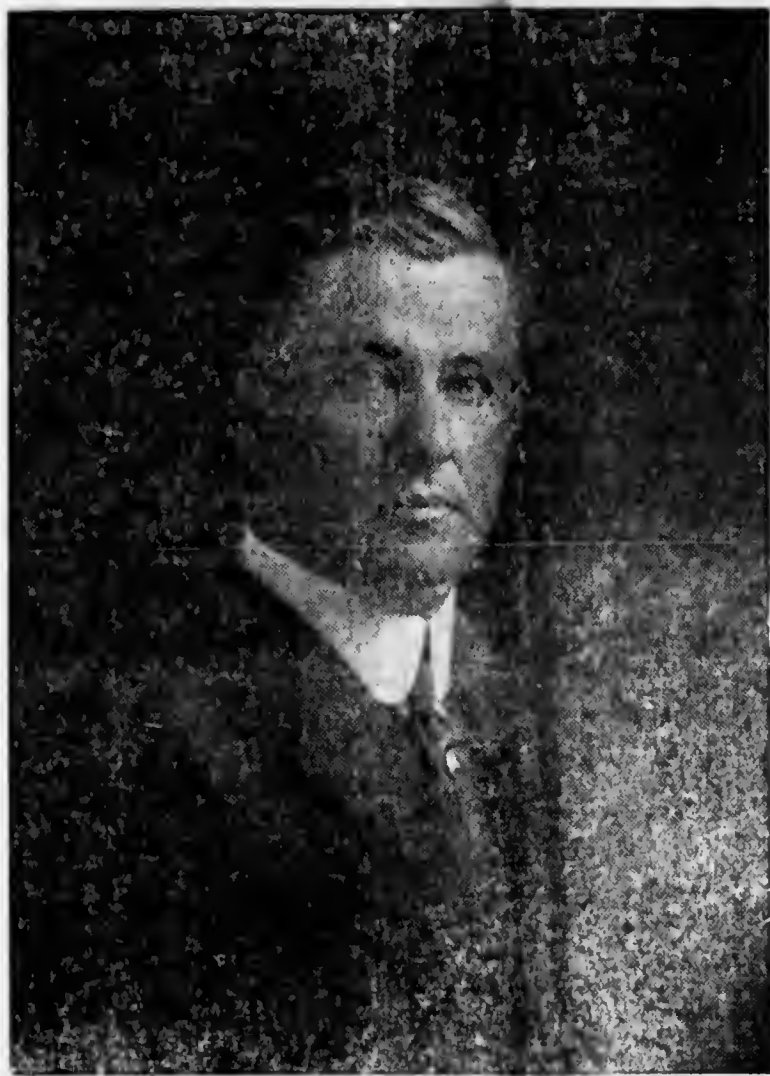

Now for a ballot on the bond issue to get turnpikes. About December has been suggested as a suitable time to hold an election on this proposition. Good roads are worth more to a county than all the Senators and Representatives in times past have ever been. Now for good roads.

To Start Cemetery Fund.

Frank M. Baker, of Owega, N. Y., has sent the editor of the Times a check for $5.00 to start a cleaning-up-cemetery fund. Persons in this city interested in the beautifying of the local burial grounds should accept the offer by following suit and making up funds to improve the home burial grounds. However, it is not imperative that the money should go to the local cemetery only. Any cemetery in the county that will be first to start a bona fide subscription fund for the improvement of public burial grounds can get the $5.00 by making application to this office.

Scores of Powell county people are attending the big Bluegrass Fair at Lexington this week. The Bluegrass fair and the Montgomery county fair are very attractive to Powell county people.

Mrs. W. T. Adams and daughter, Mrs. Harry Stettinck, are visiting Mrs. C. B. Dickson at Ashland.

OUR NOMINEE FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

Hamlett Comes to the Relief.

Many school patrons are complaining of the new school book law which compels a new set of books in the public schools this year. Barksdale Hamlett, Supt. of Public Instruction, comes to the relief of the patrons and says the book companies must take the old books in exchange for the new ones at fixed prices. Mr. Hamlett is a man who appears to be a friend of the people as we had occasion to mention in these columns before.

Judge James H. Evans, County Judge of Clark county for sixteen years, died in Winchester Tuesday from cancer of the throat. Judge Evans was right fully designated as the best county Judge of the State.

Mrs. G. W. Anderson, Jr. and children, of Mr. Sterling, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Wilson.

Mrs. Nau Terry, of Lexington, visited friends in the city last week.

Flagrant Violation of Law

Wednesday, July 29, a freight train stood across the 9th street crossing for one-half hour at least and travelers had to come around by the depot to get across the track. The five-minute blocking limit of public roads by trains is not paid any attention whatever. There is no sign at this crossing nor there never has been. This Commonwealth of the L. & N. is a great state of authority over the common people who must tamely submit to all forms of law violation for the benefit of this octopus. But how about the poor man?

Noted Journalist Here.

Louis Pileher, a noted Kentucky journalist, is in Clay City this week delivering copies of "The Story of Jackson City." Mr. Pileher is being urged to write a similar book on Clay City and Stanton. He finds the outlook here very flattering and will probably undertake the work. Mr. Pileher has gotten out similar books on Whitesburg and Hazard.

The Fall Term.

The full term of Stanton College will begin Sept. 7. This college is a splendid place for our boys and girls to acquire an education. Besides it is a home institution, and no boy or girl should think of leaving the county to attend school, especially when there is none better to be found in the State than our own Stanton College.

Pastor L. E. Mann is conducting a protracted meeting with his church at Hardwick's Creek, which will continue over Sunday with a basket dinner. Night services only will be held on week days.

Mrs. J. H. O'Rear and son, Harry, are visiting relatives near Levee.

STANTON NEWS.

Mr. Robert Stone is still on the sick list but is a little better at this writing.

Miss Mandy Faulkner, of Winchester, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Henry Tipton, this week.

Prof. Steeth's wife has been quite sick all this week but is some better at this writing.

Mr. J. H. Hardwick, of Winchester, was in town last week shaking hands with his many friends.

An item that was overlooked last week was the death of Mrs. Henry Tipton's sister, Mrs. Rufus Dunn.

Mr. and Mrs. Benn Sewell, of Jackson, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hardwick over Sunday.

Dr. Johnson is going to have a concrete sidewalk made from the road to his house. This is a step many of us might take.

Mr. James Clark, of Sexton creek in Clay county, arrived Tuesday for a visit to his brother, Mr. D. R. Clark of Stanton.

Dr. J. E. Lemming has been making some extensive improvements on his office that adds much to the comfort of the place.

Mrs. Mollie Crawford and baby, of Jackson, have been visiting several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hardwick.

Mr. Fred Ware, of Hardwick's Creek, has moved his family into the building of Mr. James Ewen. Mr. Ware will travel on the road for the grocery firm of Hodgkin and Co., of Winchester.

Mr. George Stephens and his son, Chashe, with Robert Morris and Cleveland Chaney left Monday for Loveland, in Morgan county, to work on the new railroad being built there.

Mr. A. C. Day of Bowen, Mr. C. Shinfessel of Clay City, and Hall & Lyle of Stanton, were selected by the Board as depositaries for the new school books, and they can be obtained at these places.

Mr. M. S. Cram, of Jackson, was a pleasant visitor to our town over Sunday. No man is more welcome than Mr. Cram and we are sure that no man hates to leave Stanton worse than he does.

Misses Maudie Boone, Anna Clark and Mayne Derickson left Monday for the Bluegrass Fair at Lexington. Miss Maudie Boone and Anna Clark will also visit at the latter's sister, Mrs. Myrtice Conlee, before returning home.

Rev. J. C. Hanley and wife returned Friday from their visit to their parents in Ohio and Pennsylvania. Master Robert McHenry, of East Liverpool, Ohio, and a nephew of Prof. Hanley, returned with them for a visit.

A revival meeting to be conducted by Rev. D. G. Combs, of Morehead, will commence at the Christian church the 18th of August. Bro. Combs is too well known to the people of Powell county to need any further comment on.

School at the college will open up the first Monday in September. They are expected to start a corps of teachers for the coming year. Miss Melba Lee, deceased to come back again this year. She will be welcomed by all those who know her.

The County Southern School Convention will meet at Stanton the 26th and 27th of August. A good program is being arranged and it is hoped that every school in the county will be represented. Miss Maudie Dance of Louisville will be with us. She is a live wire all right.

A mad dog was killed last week but not till it had bitten a Derickson girl and also a number of hogs and a cow. Tuesday of the week the cow went in and had to be killed. The cow belonged to Mr. Derickson of across the river. This is the dangerous season of the year for mad dogs and it might be a good plan for all dogs to be kept tied up till the days are over. A number of dogs have been reported going mad of late.

Mr. W. F. McDonald, of Bowen, who was taken to Louisville for an operation for kidney trouble, died from the effects of the operation and was brought to Stanton Friday and buried. The funeral was preached at the Presbyterian church. Services were also held by the Masonic Order of which Mr. McDonald was a member. He was one of the best known men of Powell county and leaves a host of friends to mourn his departure.

The election commissioners met Tuesday and made the official count of the primary held Saturday. On account of the signature of the certificate in the ballot book not being signed the Clay City Precinct was not counted but the official count is as follows: For the long term on the Democratic ticket, Beckham 298, McCrory 15, Stanley 10. On the Republican ticket, Ernest 94, Wilson 104, McLaughlin 6. For the short term on the Democratic ticket, Camden 227, Smith 13, Young 10. On the Republican ticket, Bullitt 105, Fitzpatrick 29. For Congress on the Democratic ticket, Thomas 153, Cantrill 227. At this writing, now, Cantrill, Beckham, Camden are the nominees of the Democratic party and Wilson and Bullitt of the Republican party. The race is very close between Wilson and Ernest and may be reversed when the official count is made. The Seventh District must bow her head to some again in the nomination of J. Campbell Cantrill. Every man who voted for him showed that he was lined up with the whiskey interests. A great many who voted for him were ashamed to say that they were for Cantrill before the election, for when the writer asked them who they were for they said "for Thomas" but on the day of the election they voted for Cantrill. With twelve of the leading Democratic papers supporting Thomas and four supporting Cantrill and with all the temperance people fighting hard for Thomas and all the ministers standing solid for him the liquor traffic showed their power in the election of Cantrill. Once more have the people of the Seventh District let the liquor traffic say who must be our Congressman in the Seventh District. The writer is glad that there is another chance yet to defeat this man. If only not to be done but there is a chance to redeem ourselves yet from the liquor traffic.

" Southern Agriculturist	80

The Times opposed Mr. Cantrill in the primary in favor of Mr. Thomas, another Democrat. We used every honorable effort to get Mr. Thomas nominated as he should have been. And what we said in that campaign was true; not a word having yet been disproved. We have nothing to take back. Our arguments against his nomination were for things he had done, rather than what he will do, with but the one single exception, and that is his attitude on the liquor question. He is wrong on this. Though he is the nominee of our party we will never indorse this part of him.

This is but the one single living issue between us, while there are many between the Republican nominee and us. Then how could we oppose the nominee? Mr. Cantrill made some very bitter personal remarks about us in his speech here and we will call him to account for this later, but this is not sufficient grounds for the Times to desert the grand old party of Democracy which has nourished us. Our methods of reformation are through the Democratic party and we lay down the family light only to take it up again two years hence.

Had Mr. Thomas been the nominee, we would have expected the Cantrill men to support him, and we guess they are expecting the Thomas men to support them. To preserve the party we must ever bear in mind that "United we Stand; Divided we fall."

Therefore, in accepting our nominee, we do so without the retraction of a single word we have said, all of which is true. We simply believe in the people having a vote; we believe in a majority rule. The voters have spoken; we cheerfully submit. The Times supports its party if it cannot otherwise indorse its nominees.

We have heard of some overly zealous Stanley and Cantrill men who say they will not support Beckham. Why will they not vote for Mr. Beckham, please? There is not a single excuse for not supporting him. Every inch of him is a Democrat. Every objection that we had to Mr. Beckham is history and a dead issue, and this should be the case with every Democrat. If temperance people can swallow Cantrill, pray tell us why whiskey people cannot swallow Beckham? And, besides, there are but a few thousand majority in the State for Beckham. The neglect of a few Democrats to support him means the election of a Republican. On the other hand, if every Democrat in Powell county should

"I am not good at figures but it takes to mathematician to see that a merchant is better off if he can get a quarter of a man's money, than if he merely gets a quarter of what that man has left after he comes out of a saloon. I am sick of John Barleycorn's brazen robbery of men, women and children and then bragging that he supports the government.

"I'm no reformer. A man doesn't have to be a reformer to be opposed to locomotor ataxia, and cirrhosis of the liver, and rheumatism, and sciatica, and cancer of the stomach and paresis and softening of the brain and hardening of the arteries, and rattlesnakes on top of it all. Take away from John Barleycorn the power to afflict mankind with these things and we'll support the government that John Barleycorn claims to be maintaining without missing the small change.

"When a pretty bride fades into an overworked, shrunken, frightened ghost, and children hide in corners from the insane wrath of a drunken demon who brought them into the world that they might wish that they were never born, rather than license John Barleycorn to do this, I'd see every business in Christendom go bankrupt.

"But the saloon men tell you that prohibition doesn't prohibit. The anxiety of the organized saloons that we place ourselves for peace and safety beneath their protecting care, is beautiful. You'll have blind tigers, of course you will. And you'll have horse thieves. But do you license horse thieves on that account. But it is just as easy to rid a town of blind tigers and bootleggers as it is to make legalized saloons obey the laws.

"And at most, the blind tiger won't get the boys. Do you mean to tell me that the red-blooded Kentucky lads have so little self-respect that they will crawl through a coal hole and sneak down an alley, and up a back stair and over a roof to get a drink of vile liquor? The way boys learn to drink is by dropping in where the lights are bright and their friends are there with the slot machines and the race results and the free lunch and base ball score and an air of sociability that makes every one of them drink ten times more than he expected to when he went in. Do you think for a minute that the maintenance of business prosperity depends on that sort of thing? Then bring on your opinion joints, and cocaine parlors, and set the town insane with absinthe and let's have a real prosperity."—Fredrick Landis at Lexington.

vote for Mr. Bristow against Cantrill, he would not miss them, and the 7th district would be represented by a Democrat just the same. The situation is very different. It is imperative that every Democrat support Mr. Beckham.

The first battle is over and the liquor people won in the Congressional race. They won for the reason that every liquor man went to the polls, and voted. And a little further the liquor people succeeded in pulling the wool over a few temperance people's eyes and getting them to vote with them, while one-half the Thomas vote remained at home and let the liquor fellows have it their own way.

One of the strange things about the recent primary is that Beckham, the dry candidate for U. S. Senator, carried this district by over 1,000 votes, and Cantrill, the wet candidate for Congress, carried the same district by 6,500 majority. Here we have a difference of 7,500 on identically the same issue.

They are about to have some war over in Europe, and all over the killing of one Prince by a lot of ignorant people. The war will cost the lives of one million better men than the Prince already dead, to say nothing of the cost of the war in dollars and cents, and the use of their labors in the business world. To speak of these great Powers as Christian nations is but idle talk; while it is true that Germany seems to provoke the whole thing.

The defeat of Mr. Thomas is no test of the strength of the temperance cause; it is only a test of a few really temperance people who had too much confidence in their side and remained at home. When they learn that the liquor people to a man goes every time they will go too and then victory is won.

The election of school trustee in each country district was not lacking in interest. In some districts the election became very exciting and nearly every voter cast his vote.

Beckham, Camden and Cantrill are the Democratic nominees, and they are all winners with a united Democracy.

Dr. Tom Lewis, of near Camp-ton, was in these parts last week to see some patients.

Born on the 22nd inst., to the wife of George Means, their first born, a daughter.

Isaac Mullins and wife, of Lombard, were back here on a visit the other day, taking dinner with Millard Townsend.

Hiram Rogers, living near Patsy, working here, took a severe chill Monday night, and at this writing is threatened with fever.

Jeff King, of the Calaboose in Wolfe, who works here in the Garrett job, had the misfortune to get one of his fingers so badly cut as to stop him from work, probably for several days.

Buck Creech and son, Bishop, of Primrose, in Lee county, accompanied by Granville Day, of Elson, and Mr. Keith, of Clay City, were in this section some days last week. Mr. Creech, as we understand, was looking over the land with a view of purchasing.

Mrs. Alice Ledford, from near Frenchburg, was visiting her brother, Noble Backhart, Saturday and Sunday. It was the first time they had seen each other for some five years, and you may be sure they had a pleasant meeting, and with plenty of fish and talks of old times, they made the two days count.

Harrison Banks, who has been working here in the Landsaw job, had the good fortune to marry Miss Evaline Nable, at her home in the Calaboose, on the 18th of this month. This is about the third wedding among the Garrett workmen, which goes to show that it is a paying proposition for a single man to be on the Company's payroll, in any capacity except general manager, that being good only for fried chicken.
